DECIDE TO HOLD SECOND CAUCUS

This Is Taken to Mean Elimination of Sheehan From Race.

Albany, N. Y., March 22.-Without opposition or debate, the Democratic members of the Legislature, at a conference this afternoon, voted to hold another caucus to select a candidate for United States Senator.

The Insurgents joined the Regulars in the conference, which lasted but a few minutes. This fact tended to strengthen the belief expressed by many that William F. Sheehan, the present caucus candidate, has been practically eliminated, despite vigorous denials by some of his friends,

Senator Roosevelt, after the adjourn-ment of the conference, would not say whether he or his fellow Insurgents

Governor Dix seemed more hopeful of an early solution of the matter after the conference than he has ever been "I want the party to settle the ques-tion," he said, "so that the Democrats may be represented in Congress when it meets in special session."

Various opinions were expressed as the probable outcome of Monday night's meeting. One report was that enough Sheehan men would remain to him, even though he should withdraw, to prevent the election of any man named by Insurgent co-op-

Can't Be Confirmed. New York, March 22.—If William F. Sheehan has made up his mind to withdraw his name when the new cau-cus assembles in Albany on Monday, that decision could not be confirmed in New York to-day. There were ru-mors on one hand that his letter of withdrawal would be read before the caucus, and on the other that he would adhere to his stand of remaining a candidate until some one else is chosen. then giving support to whomsoever is so selected. Basis of fact for neither could be found.

"There is nothing for me to say here at this time," said Mr. Sheehan. "We look for any developments that may come to work out at Albany.

Charles F. Murphy, characteristically brusque, would say nothing other than to admit that he had participated in a conference held in New York last night and that he hoped there would be a "speedy settlement" of the situation

The total register vote was 440, and 294 ballots were cast for bonds and 75 against. The registration was very light.

Sons employed were wage-carriers; the sons reported of the persons reported were connected with the fisheries of the Chesapeake Bay district, while the remaining 13 per cent, were engaged in the fisheries along the Atlantic coast.

Of the total capital invested in the fisheries industry of Virginia, about 90 per cent. is credited to the Chesapeake Bay district.

Sailing Craft Preponderated. By far the larger number of fishing and transporting vessels were sailing craft. While the latter greatly out-numbered steam and motor vessels in the Chesapeake Bay district, the lat-ter class has a value more than twice that of the sailing vessels, and a ton-nage almost half as great. In the Atlantic Ocean district, however, the tire catch was from the Chesapeake sailing vessels represented a greater Bay district, calefly from its vessel value than the steam and motor ves- lisheries.

The apparatus of fish capture reported for the shore and boat fisheries of Virginia largely exceeded in value that reported for the vessel fisheries, the investment in the former case being $428,000 and in the lutter $56,000. Shad Led Among Fish, Shad ranked next to oysters in value and was the most important species of fish caught. The Virginia catch was the largest in the country in 1908, weighing 7,314,000 pounds, and being valued at $486,000, or about one-fourth of the entire quantity and value of the shad caught in the waters of the United States. Its value formed 10 per cent of the value of all lisheries product of the State. According to the reports of Ashermen, the decrease of shad in the rivers tributary to Chesapeake Bay continues.

The menhaden product of Virginia in 1908 amounted to 190,089,000 pounds, valued at $429,000, and represented nearly half the total weight and value of all the menhaden caught in the United States. The catch was considerably less than in 1904, but was larger than in 1897. These fish run in large schools, and are caught principally by means of seince. In the present temper of Democratic Senators the rates are more likely to be lowered than advanced, and Senators don't want any rates put in the bill by the House for the purposes of "trading."

Muny Interests to Consider.

It seems very apparent at this time that the new Congress will take up other subjects than reciprocity and tariff. President Taft intends to urge his permanent tariff commission plan, which will cause a wrangle. The advocates of direct election of Senators will make another try for their constitutional amendment. An apportionment bill will be sent over by the House.

The new members with a record to make will clamor for public buildings and river and harbor improvements, conservation measures left over unfinished from the last session will be revised. Indeed, the leaders think that the extra session may be called upon to take up a variety of subjects for legislative action.

In view of the evident desire of the people to hear more of Dr. McElroy the pastor of the Presbyterian Church, Rev. J. J. Flx, will make every effort to have the famous evangelist remain longer in the city and continue his sermons. The music being rendered by the choir is also attracting considerable notice. The services begin promptly at 7:45 P. M.
